Label of the Dalle Molle Foundation for Quality of Life

Best project for improving quality of life

The Dalle Molle Foundation for Quality of Life aims to award the ‘Quality of Life’ prize to a current research project which focuses on the fundamental problems of information processing and new technologies aiming to facilitate access to this information and improve everyday quality of life. The scientific quality of the project should already have been recognised by research support bodies, public institutions or private companies.

In 2019, the board of the foundation has decided to award two labels worth 10,000 Swiss francs each.

Also covered are clean technologies which aim to improve and facilitate social interaction and the quality of the environment.

The competition is open to all proposed research projects taking place in Switzerland or Italy.

For more information about the Dalle Molle Foundation for Quality of Life and its institutes, see the website: www.dallemolle.ch

Deadline for submitting projects:
30 April 2019

Award ceremony:
October 2019

Projects should be submitted to concours@dallemolle.ch